Miss Anne Kolb Leckie, and Mr. Leroy Freeman, formerly of New York, now of Washington, were married, the Rev. Dr. John Britton Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. The house was charmingly decorated with white roses, palms and ferns.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, was gown in ivory satin over a foundation skirt of cloth of silver with a bodice of satin combined with tulle. A court train of white velvet elaborately trimmed with duchesse lace hung from the shoulder. Her veil of tulle was arranged on her coiffure in scarf effect and trimmed with old point lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Miss Elizabeth Leckie, who was her sister's only attendant, was gown in blue satin bordered in silver and carried pink roses.

Mr. Wendell Mansfield, of New York, acted as best man.

After a small reception for relatives and intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman left for a wedding trip, the bride wearing a modish tailored suit of brown English cloth trimmed with moleskin and a brown hat to match. After November 1 they will be at home at 1761 Willard street.

Mitman—Dawson

A charming wedding took place last evening at St. Andrew's Church at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Doris Rodgers Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hambleton Dawson, became the bride of Mr. Carl Mitman, of South Bethlehem, Pa. The church was decorated with quantities of pink roses, palms, and ferns. The Rev. Samuel Mitman, of South Bethlehem, father of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of ivory satin mounted on silver lace, with a bodice of silver lace combined with tulle. She wore silver slippers. Her tulle veil was held with a wreath of orange blossoms and her bouquet was a shower of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Beatrice Dulin was the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She was gown in pale blue tulle over silver lace and wore a silver lace hat and silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Samuel Mitman, of South Bethlehem, acted as best man for his brother, and Mr. Gray Dawson and Mr. Thomas H. Dawson, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

At the reception following, the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Dawson, mother of the bride, who was handsomely gown in black satin veiled in tulle embroidered in sequins. The decorations in the drawing room and dining-room were pink roses, palms, and ferns. Mr. Mitman and his bride left late for their wedding trip, the latter wearing a smart tailored suit of blue broadcloth with a blue beaver hat. They will reside at 1761 T street.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Mitman, parents of the bridegroom; his sister, Miss Helen Mitman, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Gilbert, all of South Bethlehem.

Interesting Events.

The artist to be presented by Mr. C. W. O'Connor at Studio Hall on October 10 in his star studio concert course will be Mary Helen Howe, coloratura soprano, who comes from New York with a national reputation for her artistic singing. Her interpretation of songs is charming and her interpretation of the operas and oratorios brings forth the brilliant and dramatic quality of her voice. Her program selected for Tuesday evening offers ample opportunity of displaying these powers. It will include: "With Verdure Clad," from "The Creation," Haydn; "Vissi D'Arti," from "L'Elisir d'Amore," Puccini; "Transit," James; "Hush Song," Ronald; "At Parting, Rogers; Bonjour Suzanne, Peasard; Still wie die Nacht, Eohm; Der Traum, Rubinstein; L'Ecstasy, Arditi; Ou va la Jeune Hindoue, from "Lakme," Delibes. Mr. Edward Donovan will be at the piano.

Rural horse shows, fox hunting, and the delights of country life will attract society for the next few weeks. In fact, until the Madison Square Garden Horse Show, which this year begins on Saturday, November 11. After the horse show is over the social season in New York will be in full swing. There are indications that the coming exhibition is to be the most brilliant yet, from a social as well as from a sporting point of view. More than one-half of all the arena boxes, eighty in number, have already been taken. One must go back more than a decade to parallel this early quest for the desirable locations during horse show week. The prizes offered for the seven days of the show amount to $30,000.

The members of the Alpha Nu Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity will give a reception at their chapter house, 2011
